HOTEL, RESORT AND RESTAURANT MARKETING

45 Hours
1 Class per week

This course is a comprehensive look at marketing in both food service as well as hotels and resorts. Students will learn how to identify a target market and create a marketing plan, as well as how menu prices impact an organization's marketing. We describe how to use a foodservice operation's menu as a marketing tool and consider the importance of an active social media presence visible to the target market. The vast majority of hotel marketing is poor and ineffective. Hotels get caught up in style over substance, branding rather than results and mediocre multichannel marketing. A simple change in marketing strategy can have a major impact on hotel/resort and restaurant income.

Students may be evaluated through multiple choice examinations, short answer type questions, essay type questions, group projects, assignments, and oral practical examination. Any grades below 50% will be discussed by the Academic Grades Committee at the end of the semester. A course of action will be determined by the Committee.

ATTENDANCE:

Students are expected to arrive to class at the scheduled time. Students who arrive late on a consistent basis disrupt other students may be asked to leave by the instructor. It is at the discretion of the instructor to admit students who arrive later than the scheduled time. Students are expected to maintain full time attendance.

USE OF CELL PHONES/TEXTING:

Students may NOT make use of electronic devices to make or receive calls or to text messages during the class as this is disruptive to students and the instructor.

MISSED TESTS OR ASSIGNMENTS:

If for unforeseen circumstances a student is unable to write a scheduled test or quiz, there will be a pre-scheduled day the last week of the semester that the test will be taken. Students are required to notify their instructor of all examinations, tests, or quizzes that cannot be attended. If an instructor is not notified of the absence, a zero may be given for that evaluation.

TEST/EXAM DAYS:

Students who are late for class on a day when a test or exam is being delivered will not be allowed entry once the test/exam has started. Students who enter late cause undue distractions and interrupt students whom have already begun the evaluation. Late students will be allowed entry after the last person in the room has completed the evaluation. Students starting the exam late will only have the remainder of the original allotted time to complete the exam.

DAILY LECTURES:

Students should plan on logging in with the specific Zoom link at least 15 minutes prior to commencement of a scheduled class and be ready to participate in class at the scheduled start time. Once an instructor has started to deliver the scheduled content for a particular class, no student will be allowed entry into the classroom. Late arrivals interrupt the lecture and it is disrespectful to the instructor and members of the class. Students arriving late will only be allowed entry during the first break.
